Action Said to Be Prompted by Brewers Who Want Favors.

Ask the Republican Boss to Protect Them from Dishonest Saloonkeepers.

Want the Right to Stamp Assignments on the Tax Coupons. .

THE COMMISSIONER IS CONSULTED.

After a Long Interview He Returns to Albany and Says the Request Will Not Be Granted.

Thomas C. Platt and Excise Commissioner Lyman held an important conference regarding the Balnes law in this city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Lyman, it is said, came to the city purposely to meet Mr. Platt, who, in turn, it is claimed, was acting at the request of the brewers.

The brewers are alarmed over the fact that under the Raines law they are at the mercy of dishonest saloon keepers. By compelled to pay for the majority of licenses taken out by the retailers. Under the new law there is nothing to prevent a dishonest saloon keeper from surrendering his Excise tax certificate and have refunded to him the pro rata amount of his

The brewers sought protection from Depu-ty Commissioner Hilliard in this city. He was powerless to help them. In their despair they appealed to Platt. They want him to exert his influence at Albany to have some method arranged by the Excise Department by which they will be protected. In return the brewers will see, it is said, that the Fidelity and Deposit Company, of Maryland, will have the exclusive and lucrative business of furnishing the yearly bonds of the retailers. This is the company of which Henry B. Platt is the managing director, and with which young Mr. Raines, of Ontario County, son of the author of the Raines law, is associated in a confiden-HILLIARD IS OBDURATE.

On Friday of last week representatives of the breweries held a meeting at the office of the Brewers' Board of Trade, in Fifteenth street, near Irving place. A committee was appointed to visit the excise officials. With President Isaac Danenberg, of the Board, at its head, a conference was held with Deputy Commissioner Hillard and Alfred R. Page, the attorney for the Deputy, at the Excise Department. The brewers were accompanied by Lawyer

Mott, of A. P. Fitch's office. They wanted to make a provision by which the brewer advancing money to a retailer for the license might take an assignment of the certificate and of the rights under it, the assignment to be filed with the Deputy Commissioner. The brewers also wanted the privilege of stamping upon the coupons attached to each certificate a reference to the assignment.

Commissioner Hilliard told them that he could not allow the plan proposed. The committee then decided to seek the ald of Mr. Platt in securing the desired protection. The committee is said to have had several lengthy conferences with the Talked at the excise office and then hurried to consult with Mr. Platt.

Talked with Platt?" he was asked, as he paced the cabin of the boat.

"Yes, I met him," he said.

"Did Mr. Platt talk with you on excise matters?"

"Why, is Mr. Platt talk with you on excise matters?"

"Why, is Mr. Platt a brewer?" asked the head of the State Excise Department.

Mr. Lyman finally admitted that he had talked with Platt about excise matters.

Henry Meyers, thirty-five years old, and homeless, was arraigned in Essex Market Court yesterday charged with stealing four loaves of bread from Max Feldman, a baker, of No. 163 Allen street. Meyer's face was thin and plached, and he seemed to totter from weakness. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

"I was hungry, Your Honor," he said.

"For three days I did not have a morsel of food. I suffered so bad that I could not sleep. While walking along Allen street this morning at 4 o'clock I saw a basket of bread standing outside of a bake shop.

talled with Platt about excise matters. He deniced, however, that Mr. Platt made a pien for the brewers.

"We don't propose to turn the Excise Department into a collection agency," said Commissioner Lyman. "We propose to collect the tax money due the State; that is all. The brewers will not be allewed to stamp excise certificates in any manner."

Mr. Platr refused to discuss the matter, "We have to await instructions from Aibany before we can de anything in answer to the appeal of the brewers," said Deputy Commissioner Hilliard. "The brewers will be the parade will consist of Unions 20 and 164, which will meet at No. 313 East Seventy-first street at 5 p. m.
